

This kind of formula would return two possible symbolic expression: $\alpha \rightarrow \beta$, when $\alpha > \beta$ or $\alpha \neq \beta$

a. The liveness property refers to the property of a program to reach a certain state at some point in time

Ex: A program that does nothing will fulfill a safety property., because the program will never be capable of doing something bad.

Comsa Filip-Emanuel
Group 932/1